

Internship in Procurement

At AstraZeneca we push the boundaries of science to deliver life-changing medicines and we are equally focused on developing talents. Our internship program offers a unique opportunity to learn and work in a multi-national company alongside industry experts. Our Procurement professionals are skilled in the art of developing and executing supplier strategies, running sourcing projects and managing supplier relationships. This means that our customers will have access to the right suppliers to deliver goods and services when needed to the required timelines, quality and price. As a Procurement Intern, you will have the opportunity to work alongside our Procurement professionals to gain skills and experience across a variety of Procurement specialisms. The program will involve you rotating into one or more areas and we will tailor your programme to meet your natural strengths, ambitions and areas you wish to develop. Developing your skill-set in variety of directions including analytical skills, negotiations, contracting, supplier and category management.
